I selected various shades of brown for the background for the following purpose:

1. Stability and Reliability
Brown is often linked with the earth and nature, evoking a sense of stability and groundedness.
It is perceived as dependable and solid, often used to convey trustworthiness and reliability.

2. Comfort and Warmth
As a neutral and warm color, brown creates feelings of security and comfort. It's cozy and can remind people of home, safety, or warmth (e.g., wood, leather, coffee).
It is associated with nurturing qualities, making it a calming and reassuring color in certain environments.

3. Simplicity and Practicality
Brown represents simplicity and practicality. It doesn't demand attention like brighter colors but is functional, unpretentious, and humble.
It is often considered down-to-earth, reflecting authenticity and genuineness.

My target audience includes individuals who are interested in learning more about me, as well as those who are intrigued by my personal style and web programming skills

I plan to incorporate several features into my website, each serving a specific purpose:

- Images: To visually engage users and provide a more interactive and relatable experience.

- An audio file: To offer an additional sensory element that enhances the overall user experience, creating a more dynamic atmosphere.

- Shades of brown as the background wallpaper: To evoke a sense of warmth, stability, and sophistication, making the site feel inviting and professional.

- A navigation pane: To ensure easy and intuitive access to various sections of the website, improving usability and user experience.
